

What new facts about this strategy/practice/framework did you learn today?

How will you use what you learned today in your classroom?

What additional questions do you have?